About the Exhibition

Juror: Betty Scarpino

Contemporary artist, sculptor and woodturner Betty Scarpino is recognized as one of the masters of the genre. Her work is held in private, public and museum collections throughout the world, and numerous awards have come her way. Betty Scarpino's wood sculpture combines fluid motion with intricate detail.

Scarpino was born in 1949 in Wenatchee, Washington, USA. Her career began in the seventies, when she produced purely functional pieces. Scarpino mastered the techniques that now create her sculptural and non-functional pieces. She has a degree in industrial arts from the University of Missouri where she also studied wood sculpture.

All work selected by the Juror and Franklin Park Conservatory and Botanical Garden will be included in the Cardinal Health Gallery. Artists will be invited to an Artist Reception.
